Presented by Klamath Basin Audubon Society

Dear Vendor/Display Person:

We invite you to be a part of the 2010 Winter Wings Festival that will be held February 12-14, 2010, in Klamath Falls, OR. The Festival is a celebration of the wintering population of Bald Eagles, other raptors and waterfowl. Our festival is a community-wide event that offers a variety of field trips, mini-sessions, workshops, and special events such as Aerie Afternoon. This year Scott Weidensaul, naturalist and well-known author, will be our keynote speaker on Saturday, February 13th. Also on Friday, February 12th, we will have William Clark, eagle and raptor specialist as our kick-off speaker as well as a presentation by Rick Sammon, Canon Explorer of Light photographer.

In addition to an exciting selection of workshops and field trips, there is also an emphasis on top quality commercial vendors and artists, primarily in nature-related fields. See the entire Festival layout and vendor information and application at www.winterwingsfest.org.

We are offering vendor/display space at Oregon Institute of Technology College Union. This is a wonderful opportunity to be part of something that is getting bigger and better each year. Attendance at the 2009 festival increased by 26%; approximately 600 people registered for the festival and an additional 1200 people walked in on Friday and Saturday. For the first time we are extending sales time for vendors to Sunday morning. All vendors will be expected to stay for all 3 days of the festival. Display space and/or non-profit without sales is still free and is available on a first come-first serve basis in the College Union. Non-profit groups that are selling items will be charged $35 per table. Vendor sales space is $70 per table, $80 per table with electricity (limited availability) for downstairs at the College Union. There will be no additional commission on gross sales. We are limiting the downstairs space at OIT to 45 vendors/displays on a first come-first serve basis.

We hope you will join us for this major winter event. Please fill in the attached form completely. If you are a vendor or non-profit sales group, be sure to enclose a check to reserve your table/s space at OIT. We must receive your application no later than February 5, 2010. (See cancellation policy on application form.) Send the form and check (made out to KBAS--Winter Wings Festival) to:
